

Focus on the Fours

Week of September 27, 2021

Dear Parents,

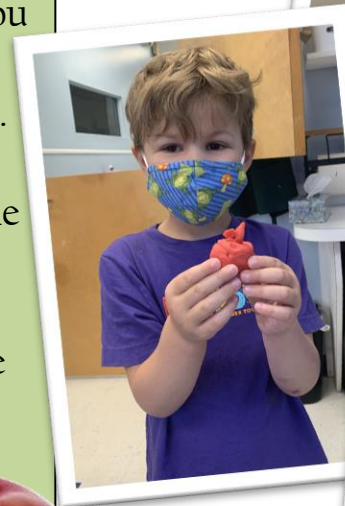

This will be our last week studying apples before transitioning to a new unit on Autumn next week. We will take our photo for our alphabet wall in the kitchen for Kk. Please look for that letter while you are out and about this week!

We have wonderful artists in our class. Our apple tree has beautiful red, yellow and green apples on it. Cutting out a circle is not easy! This week we will paint the apples we made out of clay last week.

Just a reminder, please choose an apple to bring in for our apple tasting by Wednesday. There are so many amazing varieties to choose from! We will be tasting the different apples on Thursday.

With active allergies and as we approach flu season, please keep in mind we do need to take extra precautions regarding attendance this year. Thank you for your diligence in monitoring your child's health.

Sincerely,
Michale Dudley

Hello Book!

Your child will receive their "Hello Book" this week. This book has the photos and names of all of the children in the 4s class. This book helps the students associate written names with the names of their friends. We keep a copy at our writing desk as a resource when they practice writing letters. It will also help them write their Valentines in February.

Friday we will walk to the Swisher Library.
Please return the library book in the red bag!
