

Focus on the Fours

Week of January 24, 2022

Dear Parents,

Did your child tell you about the popcorn and a movie on Friday? We read the classic The Snowman by Raymond Briggs and watched the movie during snack time. We have been playing the step bells during Music class and they play our vocal warmup song about a snowman together. They are working on Row, Row, Row Your Boat individually.

This week we will hopefully finish our winter art projects, including painting our clay snowmen! We will be making a bread called bannock for snack. Please look for more information regarding our special "snow day" soon. I have not said anything to them in class, but I cannot wait!

Next week we will learn about Groundhog day and play with our shadows! We will also begin our healthy heart unit. Our classroom will open a doctor's office and the Healthy Heart Café pretending to be patients, health care and office workers, and customers, cooks and waiters. The children usually love taking care of all sorts of ailments in the doctor's office and taking orders in the cafe!

Parent conferences begin this week. Thank you for signing up for a time to meet with me!

Sincerely,
Mrs. Dudley

Happy
Birthday

You may want to start working on Valentine cards now. It is great practice to write their own names, and to use the Hello Book to practice writing the names of their friends. We have 12 friends in the class so it would be easier to do two or three at a time.

Fours Snack Menu

Week of January 24, 2022

Monday	Snack Mix and Apple Juice
Tuesday	Banana Snowmen and Apple Juice
Wednesday	Peanut Butter Graham Crackers and Apple Juice
Thursday	Bannock and Apple Juice
Friday	Popcorn and Apple Juice